Stolen Construction Equipment Wasn't Stolen After All

A sub-contractor took the equipment by mistake

On Tuesday (9/15) morning, a contractor reported to Village officers that his $60,000 Kubota skid loader had been stolen overnight from a large project at Brookville Road and Oxford Street.

This morning (9/18), the contractor called the police to report that his skid loader had been returned to him by a subcontractor who took the machine by mistake (oops!). Case closed, thank goodness.
